Get Out

The 2017 movie, Get Out, was one of Jordan Peele’s most popular movies in which he directed himself. With a budget of $5 million he was able to create a masterpiece that explores the exaggerated form of racism amongst liberal white people. All of that somehow became an unforgettable horror film. Get Out was definitely a great start to in what seems to possibly be a filmography.

Spy

Melissa McCarthy is a well-known actress who’s played and lead in many movies and TV shows. One being the 2015 movie, Spy. Spy is ranked as #1 on the rotten tomato list of all the movies she’s been in. Unsurprisingly so too, because this action comedy was a great movie with a base Melissa’s never done before.

Hunger Games

Gray Ross’s film, The Hunger Games was released March 23, 2012. Since then, it’s received #5 Most Discussed Movie of 2012 and #2 Most Shared Movie of 2012. The Hunger Games series later continues with Catching Fire and Mockingjay part 1 and 2. And in each of these movies, it doesn’t fail to entertain the viewers with its Action, Adventure, Sci-Fi, Drama, and Thriller.