Avengers: Infinity War

I don't watch marvel movies, but when this one came out it caught my eye. Although I don't like actions movies that well, it turned out to be a very good, and interesting movie, had me on my toes the entire time.

Madea's Christmas

This movie is very funny, although I prefer the plays over the movies, it is very worth watching. Mainly about how Madea tries to patch the family but up again using her special "counseling skills".

Madea's Witness Protection

Although this movie could start off slow, it gets to a point where you cannot stand but to laugh. Madea helps someone get his life back together why he is trying to be undercover, Madea continues to bring attention towards herself and almost gets the man caught.
